

Charlie Luke
Salt Lake City Council Member
District Six

In November 2015, District Six residents elected Charlie Luke to serve a second four-year term on the Salt Lake City Council.

Over his tenure on the Council, Charlie has served in multiple Council Leadership positions, including Council Chair in 2014, and Council Vice-Chair in 2012 and 2017.

Charlie is a public relations and government affairs consultant. Through his company, Luke Strategies Inc., he represents private companies and associations in matters that are considered by state legislative bodies in Utah and surrounding states. He has managed federal, state and local political campaigns and creates and implements media, public relations, and business development campaigns for various clients.

Charlie serves as the Executive Director of the Utah Association of Community Services, an association of providers of day and residential services for people with developmental and intellectual disabilities. He also serves as a United States Selective Service Board Member, having been appointed by President Barack Obama in 2015. He is a board member of the Bennion Center at the University of Utah, as well as a former board member of Voices for Utah Children and former chair of the Utah Alternative Energy Interlocal Entity Board.

Prior to his election to the City Council, Charlie served on the Salt Lake City Planning Commission, and hosted KSL Radio's "The Charlie Luke Show," a talk show covering politics and current events. He earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in Political Science from the University of Utah. Charlie and his wife Karyn have two children, Sophie and Charlie Jr. and three dogs, Wally, Boston and Harper. They have lived on Wilson Avenue for over 15 years.
